APPLYING FOR THE CENTURY FARMS PROGRAM

Requirements

- You must be able to prove that this farm has been continuously owned by members of the same family for at least 100 years. The line of ownership from the first family member(s), that person or person you consider the founder(s), may be through spouses, children, brothers, sisters, nephews, nieces, or adopted children. You must prove the founding date.
- The land under consideration must be 10 acres or more of the original farm.
- The farm must produce at least $1000 farm income during the year of application.
- One owner must be a resident of Tennessee.

Each requirement must be fulfilled for your application to be considered.

Application Process

In the application you should provide a clear line of ownership from the founder and the date founded to the present owner. You must include proof of the founding date. Usually this is done with a deed. Copies of deeds for subsequent owners are optional.

Photographs of the farm's land, buildings, or owners (from any generation) are most welcome. Please write your name and address on the back, identify the photograph, and submit them with your application. You may also submit them on a CD. Photographs will be returned upon request. Please do not send original photographs or documents, only copies. The Center for Historic Preservation assumes the right to publish any photographs along with any information that appears within the application. To protect your privacy rights, addresses or phone number of owners and exact locations of the farm will not be published.

Completed applications must be certified by the county historian or extension agent of the county in which the farm is located. The application must also be notarized.

The Center for Historic Preservation reviews and processes applications three times a year. Deadlines for review are February 1, June 1, and October 1. Please allow 4-6 weeks from each application deadline for processing. Notification of acceptance will be made via postal letter. An announcement will be posted on the Century Farms Facebook page, and one (1) sign, provided by the Tennessee Department of Agriculture, will be issued for each farm.

In cases where separately owned farms have evolved from the founder's original acreage by family members and meet all other requirements of the program, each farm may qualify as a Century Farm. Each owner must make application for his/her farm.

SECTION IV: People, Events, Stories Related to the Farm

In each section of ownership we have requested that you describe events, people, or stories about the farm, the history of the community, and the history of Tennessee that took place on your property.

Because the Center for Historic Preservation also administers the Tennessee Civil War National Heritage Area, we are especially interested in people, events, and stories associated with the period 1860-1875 that encompasses the Civil War and Reconstruction. However, we are also interested in events and stories that impacted or occurred on your farm from any period of Tennessee history. For example, if land was given for a school or church by the family during the 1890s, that is important.

Also any awards or honors the farm and family received at different times, including the current generation, would be welcome information. For example, if someone was/is involved in the Home Demonstration Club, 4-H, or Farm Bureau, or similar agricultural organizations, include that information. Use additional pages as needed.

Information for Application Processing

Name of Farm (such as Elm Hill Acres or McDow Farm):

If no name is given, we will register the land under the last name of the present owner. In some instances, a farm in your county may already be registered under the name you have given. If that should be the case, we will contact you to ask you to select another name for your farm.
